Art of the Landscape

Lori Putnam & Jean Grunewald exhibit their uniquely exquisite works taking the "Art of the Landscape" to a new level. Their scenic depictions in the style of American Impressionism range from a whimsical old farm house to large scale drama of Victoria Falls. Both artists travel extensively and paint "en plein air" around the world.

In addition to major awards with Oil Painters and recently awarded First Place Laguna Plein Air Painters Association, Lori Putnam is a Signature Member of the American Impressionist Society. Featured in numerous issues of American Art Collector, Plein Air Magazine, and others, Putnam is now recognized as one of the finest Impressionists of our time. She demonstrates at the Annual Plein Air Convention, where she recently shared her philosophy and painting methods with more than 750 attendees.

Jean Grunewald is an award winning rising star on the art scene. Her beautifully executed landscapes come out of her passion for plein air painting. While skilled at still life, portraits, and studio subjects, her favorite method is painting on site. "I love being outside with my subject matter so I can experience the environment that surrounds them. It also provides the adventure of meeting unexpected people, discovering unique places and enjoying the camaraderie of other artists.
